Amanda Breitbach: Land/People

JAN 11 - APRIL 23, 2017

Breitbach previously exhibited at Bone Creek in Ballad in 2015. "Breitbach is part of the newest generation of agrarian artists. Her work is all about the relationships between people and the land," said curator Amanda Mobley Guenther.

The Great American Draft Horse

JAN 25 - APRIL 30, 2017

A selection of artwork largely from the museum's collection celebrating these strong workhorses. "The exhibition will center around some phenomenal sculpture donated by friend of the museum Gerald Wempner."

150 Artists, 150 Artworks, 150 Years of Nebraska in Miniature

MAY 3 - JULY 30, 2017

Calling all Nebraska artists and collectors. Endorsed by the Nebraska Sesquicentennial Commission, this major exhibition and sale celebrates Nebraska artists, their craft, and this great state.

Art and Poetry of the Barada Hills

AUG 3 - OCT 22, 2017

Watercolors by John Frederick Looke, Poetry by Jan Chism Wright. "The Barada Hills go along the Missouri River from the Big Nemaha River (near Rulo) to the Little Nemaha River (near Nemaha). I was very smitten by the subtle beauty of the land which inspired my poetry," said Chism Wright.

The Legacy of Nebraska

OCT 25, 2017 - JAN 8, 2018

Endorsed by the Nebraska Sesquicentennial Commission, The Legacy of Nebraska heralds the nostalgia and history of Nebraska. Internationally recognized artist and Nebraska native, Todd A. Williams' mission is to depict significant historic, geographic, and figurative elements from each of the 93 counties. Bone Creek will host a selection of this large collection.

ENDORSEMENTS

Thanks for the compliment!

"This was a great event! Fun people, great food and art and a spectacular Nebraska sunset. Kudos to all who helped produce this!"

—Len Sloup of Lincoln, speaking of Corn Fest

"Few of my friends will ever travel through Nebraska, but if they do, I hope they stop in David City to experience Bone Creek, a gem of a museum and art center."

—John D. Stewart, Norfolk, Virginia
