Camp Instructors

Amy Tomasevicz

Amy has a Bachelor's and Master's degree from University of Nebraska at Lincoln and has taught art for thirty-eight years in Osceola, Shelby, Columbus, and is currently at David City Aquinas. She has received awards on the local and state level, and has been described as a "master teacher" by many colleagues and students. Not only is her teaching of art exceptional, but she makes the lesson "a fun experience."

Torie Thoendel

Torie graduated from DCHS, and graduated from NE Wesleyan with a degree in Art Education K-12. She student taught at Humann Elementary in Lincoln, and a High School in Auckland, New Zealand. Torie has taught art classes at the Lux Art Center in Lincoln, for VBS at Redeemer Lutheran, as well as the NE Wesleyan Enrichment Camp, exposing inner city kids from Omaha to the realities - plus and minuses - of college life.

Joan Cech

Joan is from David City and has a K-12 Art Education degree from the University of Nebraska at Lincoln. She worked this past school year as a para educator at St. Mary's Elementary in David City where she was able to teach art lessons to the 1st and 5th grade students. Art Education provides the perfect combination of her love of art and the joy of working with youth.

Kristine Allphin Brakenhoff

Kristine's experience and education in illustration and graphic design brings an original style, sensitivity and craftsmanship to her batik work. To see a gallery of Kristine's work in batik visit her website at <http://kristine-allphin.artistwebsites.com/>, or visit the Columbus Art Gallery, located in the Columbus Public Library, where her work will be exhibited during July.

Angie Frier

Angie is from David City and is talented in working with various media. Angie is especially known for her skill in arts and crafts.
